The key for the kitchen back door, which is the entrance that will be used for these purposes, will need to be collected from the Estate Office and then returned afterwards. DEFIBRILLATOR

Q. What is a defibrillator?

A. A defibrillator is a device that gives the heart an electric shock when someone's heart has stopped (cardiac arrest).

You can use a defibrillator on children over one year old and adults.

Ambulances have them on board but using a defibrillator in the minutes before an ambulance arrives can double someone's chances of survival. So it is up to bystanders to quickly find the nearest defibrillator.

You can use a defibrillator with no training. The machine analyses someone's heart rhythm and then uses visual or voice prompts to guide you through each step.

Q. Where is the defibrillator?

A. The defibrillator is installed to the right of the entrance door to the Leisure Centre.

Q. How do I use the defibrillator?

A. The instructions of how to use are all inside the device itself.

The cover must not be opened except in a true emergency as it will set off an audible alarm. There are seals on the cover, so it is known if it has been opened.

Q. What should I do if someone has a cardiac arrest?

- First, make sure someone has called for an ambulance and, if the defibrillator isn't immediately available, give CPR until someone can bring it to you.
- As soon as you've got the defibrillator, switch it on. It will immediately start to give you a series of visual and verbal prompts informing you of what you need to do. Follow these prompts until the ambulance arrives or someone with more experience than you takes over.
- Take the pads out of the sealed pack. Remove or cut through any clothing and wipe away any sweat from the chest.
- Remove the backing paper and attach the pads to their chest
- Place the first pad on their upper right side, just below their collarbone as shown on the pad
- Then place the second pad on their left side, just below the armpit. Make sure you position the pad lengthways with the long side in line with the length of the body.
- Once you've done this, the defibrillator will start checking the heart rhythm. Make sure that no-one is touching the person. Continue to follow the voice and/or visual prompts that the machine gives you until help arrives.

6) Rottingdean Place (Management) Ltd

Questions & Answers

Q. What is Rottingdean Place (Management) Ltd?

A. Rottingdean Place (Management) Ltd (RPML) is landlord, management company and freehold owner of Rottingdean Place Estate.

All Owners of a freehold house or leasehold apartment at RP are shareholders and there is one share in RPML for each property.

Q. Who are the directors of the company?

The Directors of RPML are elected by the shareholders. Only shareholders can stand for election. There can be up to 7 directors and co-options are possible between elections.

Q. What are the duties of the directors?

It is the duty of the directors to set the operating budget for the Estate Manager to work within.

It is their responsibility to set the individual service charges for each property such that it equals the operating budget.

The directors have a duty to ensure any change to the management of the estate is first agreed by all shareholders.

The directors must authorize payment of all invoices in excess of agreed limits. Other duties include.

- To obey the articles and objects
- To act fairly towards all members (being Owners)
- To protect company assets and ensure their proper use. This includes not giving away land.
- To exercise reasonable skill, care, and diligence
- To sign the accounts
- To take overall responsibility for ensuring all filings at Companies House are done.

- To set up and run the AGM and any necessary EGM's including votes on appointing auditors.
- To avoid conflict of interest.
- To employ and support the Estate Manager and ensure that the EM is competent in ensuring compliance with all Landlord duties as outlined below.

Landlord duties

The Landlord duties mainly to be performed by the Estate Manager (EM), accountants and perhaps a consultant ARMA professional are:

- To collect, hold and apply service charge monies on trust for the purposes of "Estate Services", as set out in the covenants in Owners' title deeds.
- To carry out all Estate Services as defined in the covenants.
- To follow the guidance found in the RICS "Service Charge Residential Management code and additional advice to landlord, leaseholders and agents" (<https://www.rics.org/globalassets/rics-website/media/upholding-professional-standards/sector-standards/real-estate/service-charge-residential-management-code-3rd-edition-rics.pdf>). Any departure from the RICS Code will, by law, be viewed adversely by any court, and needs a very strong justification. RPML should aim to comply in all instances. One of the requirements of the Code is to send a copy to every Owner.
- To follow overarching statute (helpfully outlined in the RICS Code) which relates to consultation on larger amounts of expenditure, health and safety, and to allowing inspection of accounts and invoices. (Section 20 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 requires that projects costing over £250 per property, or more than £100 per property for a long-term contract, be approved formally by the shareholders.)
- To ensure compliance with covenants by Owners.

RPML itself, as the freeholder, may make strategic decisions from time to time. Such decisions would be taken after full consultation with Owners and ratified by votes in General Meetings. This kind of decision would include matters like:

- Rules and regulations to apply to the Estate
- Amenities to be provided for residents
- Possible changes to the covenants
- Possible changes to the articles of association

In addition to all of the above information which is designed to help you understand the day-to-day workings of the Estate, there are built into the ownership of the freehold a number of restrictive covenants with which all freeholders and leaseholders must comply. The restrictions and covenants are set out in the next section.
